CMDRA 2013 Season Finals

The stage is set for two days of intense action and entertainment as the Canadian Motorcycle Drag Racing Association heads to Edmonton's Castrol Raceway for the 2013 Season Finals on September 7th and 8th. With numerous championships, including the Screamin' Eagle Top Fuel and V-Rod Destroyer classes yet to be determined, this all or nothing race promises to be the highlight of the season and an event that race fans will not want to miss.

The weekend gets underway at 9 am on Saturday morning when the CMDRA will once again be hosting the Trev Deeley Drag Racing School. This unique opportunity provides anyone on two wheels the chance to experience the thrill of the ¼ mile under the guidance and instruction of professional drag racers at absolutely no cost.

Live results for this event will be online at: www.cmdra.com/2013-live-race-results/
